

Welcome to the Maryland Chapters of CHADD (Chapter #168)

The Maryland Chapters of CHADD bring together families and adults with AD/HD, educators and health care professionals. If you or a family member has been diagnosed with Attention Deficit/Hyperactivity Disorder and you live in Maryland, then this is the place for you.

The Maryland Chapters hold regular educational programs with local experts, support groups for parents, and support groups for adults with AD/HD. All meetings are open to the public. This website is your portal to the activities of all our chapters.

NOTE: CHADD does not endorse specific products, services, publications, medications or treatments. CHADD does not believe that one single treatment or approach is appropriate for everyone. CHADD provides access to research-based information about the nature and diagnosis of ADHD, as well as best practices for support of individuals who have ADHD.
